It takes 6 to 7 hours drive to Pokhara. Regular tourist bus is available at early in the morning. Choice to take private car at your own time or take flight which takes only 25 minutes. Daily flight starting from 09:00 till 15:30 from Kathmandu to Pokhara. Evening walking tour around Lake side of Pokhara.

Day 03 : Drive to Tatopani and trek to Paudwar (6 Hours driving and 3 Hours trekking) 2,000m. Overnight at local tea house

Drive to Beni is the highway road which takes about 3 hours by regular local bus or by private car. Another 3 hours in rough mountain road to Tatopani either with private jeep or by local bus/Jeep. cross first suspension bridge towards Khopra Dana trekking route. walking route is narrow and normal uphill. Paudwar is a beautiful and very authentic village and its people are incredibly friendly. It is much bigger and more compact than you realize at first sight and still not reached by a road. It is well worth taking some time to explore and a nice place to enjoy the sun which here shines a lot longer.

Day 04 : Trek to Khopra Danda (6 Hours - 3,640m) Overnight at local tea house

Trekking trail is almost entirely uphill. We pass beautiful villages and traditional resting places including view towards Ghorepani and Poonhill. It is passing almost 1700 meters altitude by the time we reach at Khopra Danda. Almost all the people get here dizziness and nausea or even vomiting because of high altitude. We stay in Khopra community lodge. From here wide range of amazing views of mountain and valley. If you walk 10 minutes further up from Khopra Danda views are more amazing.

Day 05 : Trek to Khayer Lake (4,650m) and back to Khopra Danda for overnight. (8 Hours)

If you want to explore the area a bit more you can walk up to holy Khayer Lake at 4,650 meter altitude. It is quite a long day hike to Khayer Lake. Khayer Lake is one of the holy lakes. It is important to bring enough drinking water and food. The return trip takes almost a full day. It is a remote area, while the walk is nice. Khayer Lake is not very much impressive but the views are much nicer from the approach than from the lake itself. Walking back to Khopra Danda for overnight.

Day 06 : Trek to Dobato (4 Hours) Overnight at local tea house

From Khopra you will descend until you reach a junction at around 3,500 meter altitude. The trail is narrow and there are some steep drops. It is also, however, one of the most beautiful and varied sections of trail. Crossing little streams, going in and out of small valleys, hiking through meadows, bamboo and rhododendron forest it feels like your surroundings are changing with every step. There are lots of ups and downs reach at Bayeli. Another 1 hour continues walking reach at Dobato. You also can reach at Muldai viewpoint from the lodge. Muldai is my favourite of the viewpoints in the area as you can look at the mountains at the same angle like from Pun Hill, but you are much closer.

Day 07 : Trek to Ghandruk (2,010 Meters) Overnight at local tea house

Trek from Dobato to Tatopani is easy. Further trek to Ghandruk village is more easy via forest trail. we will reach at Ghandruk a big Gurung community village. You can see many tourists and Nepalese trekkers here. It also has opportunity to visit Gurung Museum which is collection of old traditional cultures, customs of Gurung peoples. Walking around the village to explore typical houses.

After one and half hour walking, we find local jeep station. It has option to take driving back till Nayapool instead of walking another 3 hours downhill. from Nayapool, it is 2 hours driving back to Pokhara. Check in hotel and rest.

Day 09 : Drive or fly back to Kathmandu. overnight at Hotel

Tourist buses are available early in the morning drive back to Kathmandu. It takes about 7 hours. Another option is to explore major highlights of Pokhara within half day and take private car drive back to Kathmandu or take 25 minutes flight to Kathmandu.
